Veterinary Nursing For Wildlife

Suitable for Registered Veterinary Nurses and Veterinary Nurse Trainees.

Native ARC Inc. is a registered wildlife rehabilitation centre and the only veterinary hospital in Western Australia to solely treat wildlife.

Our Veterinary Hospital is open 365 days a year and treats in excess of 4000 sick, injured and orphaned native animals. Join us for a comprehensive look at the role of a Veterinary Nurse inside a wildlife hospital.

Topics Covered

- Triage of Wildlife (Dean Huxley);
- Husbandry & Handling (Dean Huxley);
- Physical Examination (Dr Meg Rodgers);
- Radiology (Dr Meg Rodgers); and
- Anaesthetic Monitoring (Dr Meg Rodgers);

Dean Huxley is the Manager of Native ARC Inc. with more than 10 years' experience in the industry. He has a strong background in education and training and adjunct lectures at South Metropolitan TAFE and the Department of Biodiversity, Conservation and Attractions.

Dr Meg Rodgers is one of Native ARC's Veterinarians and oversees the Centre's Volunteer Registered Veterinary Nurses. Dr Rodgers has a wealth of experience with all wildlife with a speciality for macropods and birds.
